

I object to the effort to weaken the no call list in Wisconsin. This is a great law because it affords citizens a much needed protection from voracious business interests who are more interested in improving their bottom than they are in protecting the privacy and security of our homes. These businesses should not be allowed to call, contact, nor harass people at will